What is Mining 4.0 - The Digital Mine Symposium?

Mining 4.0 – The Digital Mine Symposium is a new conference CIM is initiating.

Digital tools – automation, data analytics, artificial intelligence – have enormous potential to improve mining operations. There is a growing collection of case studies that illustrate the impact these technologies are having on safety, reliability, productivity and even sustainability.

Mining 4.0 is a forum to meet with others in the minerals and metals industry to explore these developments and build on them to accelerate mining's digital transformation.

This symposium will be offering a variety of different format presentations, plenary panel, keynote sessions and pre-recorded presentations with live Q&A.
